FORWARD

To the Saints and Friends of Jericho Seventh-day Adventist Church, Christian greetings in the precious name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. It is with profound joy, gratitude, and a deep sense of pastoral responsibility that I welcome you to the Jericho SDA Church Strategic Plan (2026–2030). This document is not merely an administrative roadmap; it is a spiritual blueprint and a visionary declaration of where God is leading our congregation over the next five years. Looking back, we cannot help but stand in awe of God's extraordinary faithfulness. Through every season, trial, and triumph, the Lord has been our Ebenezer—hitherto hath the Lord helped us. He has sustained our worship, expanded our ministries and kept our community anchored in His grace. As we reflect on this rich journey of faith, we praise Him for His steadfast love and unwavering guidance.

However, a grateful look backward must always inspire a faithful step forward. In an ever-changing world, the need for a deliberate, prayerful strategic plan is paramount. Holy Scripture reminds us that "Where there is no vision, the people perish" (Proverbs 29:18). This strategic plan ensures that our resources, energies and ministries are intentionally aligned to maximize our impact for the Kingdom. It provides us with the clarity to navigate contemporary challenges while remaining fiercely rooted in our prophetic identity. At the heart of this five-year journey are our sacred Vision and Mission. We aspire to be a vibrant, Christ-centered sanctuary of hope, healing and spiritual growth. Our mission remains steadfast: to proclaim the everlasting gospel of the Three Angels' Messages, preparing a people for the imminent return of our Lord. Through this plan, we aim to deepen our discipleship, elevate our community outreach and foster a nurturing environment for our children, youth and adults alike.

To realize these future aspirations, we are called to a higher standard of unity, stewardship and unwavering commitment. We are many members, but one body. The success of this vision depends on our collective willingness to dedicate our time, spiritual gifts and financial means to God's work, acknowledging that we are but caretakers of His abundant blessings. I want to express my deepest appreciation to the church board, the strategic planning committee, our departmental leaders and every stakeholder who poured their prayers, insights and tireless efforts into drafting this document. Your dedication has been an inspiring testament to the power of a united church.

Pastor Hudson Machoka

Dear Beloved Brethren,

Grace and peace to you in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

As we embark on this new strategic journey, we give thanks to God for His faithfulness that has sustained our church from when it began first as a Sabbath school to date as a church. This strategic document is more than a plan—it is a testimony of our commitment to seek God's will and to faithfully steward the mission He has entrusted to us, which is the three angels' message in Rev 14:6-12.

"I Will Go" Our global mission initiative reminds us that our strength, purpose, and hope are found in Christ alone. In a world of constant change, we are called to remain firmly anchored in His Word, guided by the Holy Spirit, and committed to living out the Gospel in our homes, workplaces, and communities. As Scripture reminds us, "Unless the Lord builds the house, those who build it labor in vain" (Psalm 127:1). Therefore, every goal we pursue must begin and end with Christ.

This strategic plan is not the responsibility of church leadership alone. It is an invitation for every member to discover, develop, and faithfully use the gifts God has given them for His glory. Whether through worship, discipleship, evangelism, community service, prayer, mentoring, or administration, each one of us has a vital role in advancing God's kingdom. Together, we are one body with many members, working in unity for a common purpose.

As we move forward, let us strengthen our bonds of love, unity, and mutual accountability, serving one another with humility and Christ-like love as we faithfully pursue our shared calling. This strategic direction presents new opportunities and approaches to ministry while remaining firmly anchored in the unchanging truth of God's Word. Together, we are committed to embracing growth and innovation as we respond faithfully and effectively to the needs of our generation.

I encourage every member to prayerfully support the implementation of this strategic plan. Let us commit ourselves wholeheartedly to God's work, trusting that He who has begun a good work among us will bring it to completion according to His perfect will.

May the Lord grant us wisdom to make Godly decisions, courage to embrace His calling, strength to serve faithfully and hearts that remain united in love. May He bless every departmental leader, every member, and every family represented in our church. As we walk together in faith, may our congregation continue to grow spiritually, numerically and in its impact for the glory of God.

May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with us all as we faithfully implement this vision.

In Christ's Service,

Eld. Nathan Khamala

First Elder

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This Strategic Plan provides a clear roadmap for Jericho Seventh-day Adventist Church (JESDA) over the next five years, outlining the vision, priorities and actions required to fulfill its mission. It is grounded in biblical principles and aligned with the global mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, focusing on making disciples, nurturing spiritual growth and preparing individuals for Christ's return.

The plan is informed by a comprehensive analysis of the church's internal and external environment. Key strengths such as strong doctrinal grounding, community trust and active youth engagement are recognized, while challenges including financial constraints, infrastructure gaps, and socio-economic pressures are addressed. These insights guide the development of practical and context-relevant strategies.

Seven key strategic result areas form the foundation of this plan: Communion with God; Identity in Christ and Mentorship; Unity through the Holy Spirit, Leadership and Stewardship; Mission to All and Mission Refocus; Strengthening the Church School; Infrastructure Development and Financial Sustainability; and Systems Development and Integration with AI. Each area is supported by clear objectives and actionable strategies aimed at promoting holistic spiritual growth, effective mission work, strong leadership and sustainable development.

The Implementation Framework outlines the structures and systems necessary for successful execution. It emphasizes stewardship, resource mobilization, budgeting, strategic leadership, and an effective management structure. Critical success factors such as strong leadership commitment, active member participation, adequate resources and effective communication are highlighted as essential enablers. Risk management is integrated to ensure that potential threats are proactively identified and addressed. These include financial, operational, human resource, legal, reputational, technological and external risks, with specific measures in place to safeguard church resources and maintain accountability.

The MER framework ensures continuous tracking of progress and performance. Through the use of KPIs, regular reviews and structured reporting, the church will maintain accountability, measure impact and make informed decisions for continuous improvement. Overall, this Strategic Plan serves as both a ministry guide and a management tool, providing a structured, transparent and sustainable approach to achieving JESDA's mission and strengthening its impact in the community.

CHAPTER ONE

INTRODUCTION

1.0 Overview

This chapter provides an introduction to the strategic plan and its foundational components. It underscores the importance of aligning all strategic initiatives with the GC Strategic Plan 2025–2030 to ensure harmony with the global mission and priorities of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The chapter also highlights the role of these strategies in advancing the Church's mission, their basis in biblical principles of strategic planning and stewardship, and their grounding in guidance from the Church Manual. Additionally, it reflects on the Church's vision and mission, its historical development, and outlines the methodology used in formulating the plan.

1.1 Strategy as an imperative for organizational success.

The strategic plan will provide a roadmap for achieving long term goals, aligning resources and activities and ensuring everyone works towards a common goal. It will be helpful in proactively anticipating future challenges and opportunities, identifying potential risks and develop strategies to mitigate them, making informed decisions and tracking progress towards the Church's objectives, the SP will help JESDA allocate resources effectively, ensuring that the most critical areas receive the attention and funding.

1.2 The context of Strategic Planning

These elements set the reference framework and guiding principles within which the plan is conceived and executed. The context includes alignment with the key components in the Church's manual, the General Conference's Strategic Plan and the biblical truths. These frameworks influence what goals JESDA sets, which priorities are pursued and how success is measured.

1.2.1 The Church's manual

The Seventh day Adventist Church's manual plays a key role in Strategic Planning by providing a biblical doctrinal and operational framework that ensures all plans align with the Church's mission and values. It defines the Church's governance structure and guides ethical leadership and stewardship.

1.2.2 The General Conference's Strategic Plan 2025-2030

The General Conference Strategic Plan 2025–2030, titled "I Will Go ," provides global direction for the Seventh-day Adventist Church, focusing on three key areas: Mission, Spiritual Growth, and Leadership Development. It promotes unity, missional engagement and measurable impact through clear Key Performance Indicators (KPIs). The plan serves as a framework for aligning local church strategies with the global mission by encouraging churches to contextualize these objectives into practical local actions, adopt relevant KPIs, engage members actively and regularly evaluate progress. This integration ensures that local efforts contribute meaningfully to the broader vision of preparing the world for Christ's return.

1.2.3. Biblical truths around Strategic planning and stewardship.

Integrating biblical truths about stewardship and Strategic planning ensures that the SP is not only effective and efficient but spiritually grounded, ethically sound and aligned with a higher calling. It transforms planning from a secular exercise into an act of worship and faithful leadership.

1.3 The History of Seventh Day Adventist

The Seventh-day Adventist Church emerged from the 19th-century Millerite revival in North America, grounded in the expectation of Christ's imminent return. Following the Great Disappointment of 1844, a small group of faithful believers regrouped through Bible study and prayer, leading to the formal organization of the Church in 1863. Rooted in the Three Angels' Messages of Revelation 14, the Church embraced a distinctive identity centered on the Sabbath, holistic health, education, and missionary outreach. Key pioneers such as Ellen G. White helped shape the Church's theology and mission focus, emphasizing the integration of faith, practical living, and global evangelism.

Today, the Seventh-day Adventist Church stands as a global movement with over 22 million members, operating one of the world's largest Protestant healthcare and education systems. Its rapid growth and global presence are a testament to its compelling message, prophetic foundation, and deep commitment to service, making it uniquely positioned to meet both spiritual and practical needs in a complex world. This legacy inspires the Church's strategic planning, driven not only by vision, but by a proven history of resilience, reform, and mission-centered impact.

1.3.1 The History of JESDA

Jericho SDA Church was initially established as a Sabbath School under Shauri Moyo SDA Church in 1968. The Sabbath School began at Jericho Lumumba Social Hall, where members gathered for worship. In 1969, the congregation was allocated the plot on which the church currently stands. The site was dedicated for worship on 19th July 1969, when members moved to the present location where a small sanctuary was erected.

The dedication service was officiated by Pr. D. K. Bazara, the Administrative Secretary of the then East Africa Union; Pr. Frederick Wangai, the then Field President; and Pr. Phantus Nduke, the District Pastor. Eld. Nathaniel Lwambe served as the first Elder.Notable pioneer members of Jericho SDA Church were the late Eld. Ngugi Kawira, Hannah Oloo, the family of the late Justus Omoro, Caren Odhiambo and the late Francis Essanya.

The church experienced rapid growth, leading to the establishment of several Sabbath Schools. The first was Athi River followed by Embakasi, Kariobangi, Umoja, Ngong and Mbotela. Between 1969 and 1980, church membership continued to grow and the existing sanctuary could no longer accommodate all the congregation. In 1983, members temporarily moved to the neighboring Jericho Social Hall to allow for the construction of a larger sanctuary with a seating capacity of up to 1,200 worshippers.

In 1986, the building block behind the sanctuary where the school currently stands was completed and the congregation moved back to worship in the first-floor hall as construction of the current sanctuary continued. Towards the end of 1993, members began worshipping in the new sanctuary while the remaining finishing works was ongoing and was finally completed in 2014.

Dedication of the completed sanctuary was done on 4th December 2016 by the President of the East and Central Africa Division, Pastor Blasious Ruguri who was once a member of Jericho SDA Church. In attendance were Pastor Dr. Njoroge, Associate Pastor Anthony Ong'ondo and Elder Emmanuel Alai.

Jericho SDA Church became well known for evangelism through music under the leadership of the late Justus Omoro. Their unique genre of original Adventist music earned them widespread recognition and even led to an invitation by the then Head of State, the late President Daniel arap Moi, to perform at his home in Kabarak, Nakuru County. As a result of the rich musical heritage, the choir also received a special invitation to perform at the General Conference of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, USA in 2005. Among the legendary music teachers who contributed to this ministry were the late Justus Omoro, the late Eld. Nyang'aya, Eld. Alai, Elder Ouma and the late Manasse Nyariwo.
Through JESDA's youth-led mission programme, JESDA has established new congregations in Uyoma–Madiany (Kilo Market, Chianda), Ndere (Gem), Koru (Muhoroni), Alara (Bondo), Gelegele (Bomet), Kinyui (Tala), Kunati (Meru), Luthehe (East Ugenya), Isabagara (Kisii), Seme (Kisumu), Ebukadanyi (Busia), Asembo (Siaya), Nyambari Uplands (Limuru), Ikutha (Kitui), Nang'eni (Bungoma), and Katanga (Machakos). This reflects the ministry's commitment to spreading the Gospel, reaching new communities and establishing vibrant congregations across Kenya. The youth-led mission programme continues to be a key avenue for advancing the church's mission and expanding its outreach.

1.4 Methodology of developing the strategic plan

The strategic planning process was initiated following the Church Board's approval and the appointment of a Strategic Planning Committee (SPC) to oversee the exercise. The Committee defined the scope, objectives, timelines and planning approach before undertaking a consultative planning process. Stakeholders were engaged through meetings, discussions and digital surveys to gather views on the Church's current state, opportunities and priorities. The information collected was analyzed using strategic planning tools, including SWOT and stakeholder analysis, to identify the Church's strategic goals, objectives and priority interventions aligned with its mission and vision.

1.4.1 Strategic plan validation and dissemination

The draft Strategic Plan was presented to the Church Board for review, validation and approval to ensure alignment with the Church's vision and mission. Following Board approval, the Plan was shared with the congregation for further review and familiarization. Feedback received from both the Board and the congregation was incorporated into the final document, which was then edited and proofread for accuracy and consistency. The approved Strategic Plan was disseminated through both printed and digital formats, with summaries shared via the Church's communication platforms. A formal launch and presentation were conducted to communicate the strategic direction, objectives, and implementation framework to all stakeholders.

CHAPTER TWO

STRATEGIC DIRECTION

2.0 Overview

This chapter provides an overview of JESDA's strategic direction, highlighting its vision statement, which offers a forward-looking guide for the Church's future-its mission statement, which defines the Church's core purpose and its impact on the community, its strategic goals, and core values, which represent the principles and beliefs that shape decision-making and problem-solving. The chapter also outlines the central theme of the strategic plan.

2.1 Strategic Plan Theme

Anchored in Christ to grow in Mission

This theme emphasizes the importance and awareness of remaining firmly rooted in Christ, drawing strength, wisdom and purpose from an abiding relationship with Him. It reflects the conviction that true spiritual growth and effective mission can only flourish when believers are grounded in Christ, the source of life and transformation. As the Church remains steadfast in Him, it is empowered to advance His mission, influence society positively and make a lasting difference in the world for His glory.

CHAPTER THREE
SWOT AND STAKEHOLDER ANALYSES

3.0 Overview

Understanding JESDA's operating environment is essential for identifying the key internal and external factors that influence the church's success. This chapter provides an in-depth analysis of the external environment, alongside an assessment of the internal environment, including the church's strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats (SWOT). Additionally, the chapter explores the strategic issues currently affecting the Church.

3.1 JESDA'S Operating Environment

JESDA's day-to-day operations are significantly influenced by both internal and external environmental factors, including political, economic, socio-cultural, technological, and legal elements. Gaining a clear understanding of its strengths and weaknesses enables the Church to capitalize on its advantages while addressing or minimizing areas of vulnerability. At the same time, it allows JESDA to proactively seize emerging opportunities and mitigate potential risks within its operating environment. Furthermore, a thorough analysis of the stakeholder landscape is essential for fostering and maintaining strong, collaborative relationships that support effective functioning within this context.

3.1.1 SWOT Analysis

STRENGTHS

1. Spiritual and Doctrinal Consistency Backed by the global SDA Church, JESDA offers a clear, stable belief system centered on biblical truth, health, and education.
2. Community Trust and Accessibility Located within a familiar neighborhood, JESDA is likely seen as a safe and moral anchor for families.
3. Provision of Holistic Education through JESDA Academy: (Education as a Stakeholder). The presence of an associated academy enhances the church's influence in shaping young minds and promoting Christian education, a core SDA value.
4. Comprehensive Youth Programmes Programmes like Pathfinders, Sabbath School and other youth clubs create spiritual and social opportunities for young people.
5. Holistic Ministry Approach JESDA's focus on health, lifestyle, family life, stewardship and education fits well in a community that needs practical support, not just spiritual teaching.
6. Strong Volunteer Culture Even though economical constraints pose as a threat, Church members are often generous with time and energy, driving local outreach and evangelism.
7. Potential for Lay Leadership Development Many members possess untapped talents that can be developed for leadership, teaching, or technical ministry

WEAKNESSES

1. Limited Financial Capacity The socio-economic challenges faced by members and the wider community may affect tithes, offerings, and overall support for church projects.
2. Infrastructure Gaps: Church and school facilities may be outdated or insufficient to serve a growing or diverse population.
3. Generational Disconnect: The disconnect in perception between old and the young may unintentionally exclude youth or fail to connect with modern issues and technologies.
4. Underutilization of Development Opportunities A lack of strategy on community development, entrepreneurship, vocational or Adventist in services and Industries (ASI) support limits transformative change.

OPPORTUNITIES

1. Spiritual interaction with the community Interaction with the community through House-to-House visits, distribution of tracts and magazines, open air discussions/ bible quiz challenges or bible studies, catering for special needs.
2. Community-Based Development Projects Launching income-generating activities (like cooperative gardening, basic skills training, or microfinance support) can boost livelihoods and uplift families.

THREATS

1. Socio-Economic Pressures: Increasing unemployment and inflation could hinder the progress of the church's projects and put additional strain on its limited resources.
2. Youth Migration and Brain Drain Young people may leave the community for better opportunities elsewhere, creating leadership gaps and lower youth engagement.

3. Leveraging Digital Tools for Evangelism and Education: Even in lower-income areas, mobile phones and social media can help JESDA reach more people through online services, devotionals, and health education. 4. Strengthening Family and Mental Health Ministries Hosting programs for parenting, marriage, and emotional resilience can meet growing needs in struggling households. 5. Integrated Church-School Development Collaborating with JESDA Academy for shared programs (e.g. youth development, Bible literacy, tutoring, and health expos) strengthens both institutions. 6. Partnerships with Local Government or NGOs By engaging in collaborative community work (e.g. clean-up drives, literacy campaigns), JESDA can receive support and gain visibility. 7. Youth Empowerment & Leadership Programs Introducing mentorship, vocational training, digital literacy, music, and entrepreneurship workshops for youth can position JESDA as a hub for future leaders. 8. Compliance with legal frameworks enhances credibility and institutional trust	3. Competing Ideologies or Religious Movements Doctrinal confusion poses a significant threat to the SDA Church because exposure to competing ideologies and denominational movements can blur the distinct beliefs that define its identity, such as the Sabbath, the sanctuary doctrine, the state of the dead, and the Second Coming. When members, especially those less grounded in Scripture, encounter conflicting interpretations, they may experience uncertainty, mix teachings, or even drift away from the church. 4. Overdependence on a Few Leaders Without leadership succession or mentorship, the church risks burnout or decline if key individuals leave or step down. 5. Changes in Government Policies and Regulations: Shifts in government policies and regulations related to worship services, infrastructure development, and revenue collection may affect operations, compliance requirements, and the implementation of planned activities. 6. Political polarization that may create divisions among members 7. Rapid technological changes requiring continuous investment and training 8. Cybersecurity risks, data privacy concerns, and misinformation 9. Legal disputes, non-compliance penalties, or changes in labor and property laws

3.1.3 Stakeholder Analysis
